

BS/ST770 The Triune God of Scripture

Instructor	Dr. Michael Gorman & Dr. Brent Laytham
Schedule	Monday & Thursday evenings, May 22 – June 29, 6-9 p.m., as follows: Week 1 – Mon, May 22 (no class Thurs, May 25) Week 2 – Thurs, June 1 (no class Mon, May 29) Week 3 – Mon, June 5; Thurs, June 8 Week 4 – Mon, June 12; Thurs, June 15 Week 5 – Tues, June 20 (replacing June 19, a federal holiday); Thurs, June 22 Week 6 – Mon, June 26; Thurs, June 29
Description	By engaging recent developments in both biblical studies and theology, this course will explore the scriptural revelation of the one Triune God.
Requirements	Reading: approx. 500–600 pages in required books and additional articles
	Writing <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. A short paper of 500–600 words due the last week of classes 2. A 3,000-word paper due approx. one month after the course ends. Students will choose either: (a) a review of and response to an approved monograph or (b) a research paper on an approved topic.
	Other Assignments <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Approx. three (3) posts on Canvas of two critical questions or issues (CQIs) related to a particular day's reading 2. Approx. three (3) exegetical worksheets on particular biblical passages

Required Texts:

Author and Title (Press, Year, Edition)	Cost	Pages to read
Scott R. Swain, The Trinity: An Introduction (Crossway, 2020) 978-1433561214	$13.99 (Kindle $11.99)	133
Richard Bauckham, Who is God: Key Moments of Biblical Revelation (Baker Academic, 2020) 978-1540961907	$22.99 (Kindle $14.99)	113
Larry W. Hurtado, God in New Testament Theology (Abingdon, 2010) 978-0687465453	$18.59 (Kindle $11.99)	131
Various articles posted on Canvas		