

BS 727 The Gospel of Luke

Instructor	Dr. Marcus Jerkins
Schedule	Synchronous - Mondays 6-9pm (May 20; June 3, 10, 17, 24; July 1, 8, 15 (no class May 27 – Memorial Day) along with asynchronous presentations
Description	This course will engage in a theological reading of the Gospel of Luke. The purpose, beyond gaining a better understanding of Luke's Gospel, is to help students to become better theological thinkers for use in their ministry contexts. The hope is that through reading Luke we will become better acquainted with how God's mission should be implemented in the world to engage diverse groups in understanding the gospel of Jesus Christ.
Requirements	Reading Luke's Gospel and relevant articles and books
	3 short papers (500 words) and one research paper (12pps)
	Group discussions on Jesus in Luke's Gospel and contemporary issues

Required Texts:

Author and Title (Press, Year, Edition)	Cost	Pages to be read
Joel B. Green, The Gospel of Luke (NICNT, Wm. B. Eerdmans, 1997) ISBN: 978-0802823151	13.00 (Paper)	600
Mikeal Parsons, Body and Character in Luke and Acts (Baker Academic Press, 2006) ISBN: 978-0801028854	28.00	190