

MT/H703 The Preaching and Public Theology of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Instructor	Dr. C. Anthony Hunt
Schedule	Saturday 2/15 and 4/26 (9-2:00 pm) (Campus) Sunday-Friday, April 6-11 (Birmingham, Montgomery, and Selma, Alabama)
Description	Students will gain an understanding of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. as a preacher and public theologian, and gain an appreciation of prophetic preaching and leadership in the public square. During this course, in addition to in-class work, students will participate in an academic immersion experience and visit some of the significant venues of King's ministry and the Civil Rights movement in Birmingham, Montgomery, and Selma, Alabama.
Requirements	Reading - Not to exceed 800 pages
	Writing - Three Papers, not to exceed a total of 24 pages
	Other Assignments – N/A

Required Texts:

Author and Title (Press, Year, Edition)	Cost	Pages to be read
Strength to Love. Martin Luther King, Jr., ISBN: 978-0-806-9740-2	13.00	150
Why We Can't Wait. Martin Luther King, Jr., ISBN: 978-0-8070-0112-7	16.00	200
The Preacher King: Martin Luther King, Jr. and the Word that Moved America. Richard Lischer, ISBN: 978-0-19-51-1132-3	30.00	200
I've seen The Promised Land: Martin Luther King, Jr. & the 21st Century Quest for Beloved Community. C. Anthony Hunt, ISBN: 978-1-5560-5477-8	17.00	250